OP-16 FE 1/3 LIBRARY SYSTEM

The system used in this library is based upon an alphabetically arranged subject classification with each book assigned a place in a general classification with adequate but simple cross-reference indexing and indicators.

The attached list of general headings will aid in locating books on the shelves and if studied will show the method used to derive the code indicator assigned to the book. It is suggested that in searching for particular information or in making up a code indicator for a new book the cross-reference card index be used immediately.
